

Gov. Washburn was in conference with Mr. Ben. Wade and other radicals yesterday. The great remedy proposed by the junta is to get Mr. Seward out of the Cabinet. Among them Mr. Stanton has some staunch adherents. Thoroughgoing Abolitionists, they say, must be put at the head of the armies. The radicals are constantly caucusing at the National and at Willard's.

General Cameron is being feted, notwithstanding the revelations at Harrisburg. Some people are verdant enough to suppose that he may be required to yield his appointment of Minister to Russia.

The Judge Advocate General has taken preliminary steps for a full investigation of the alleged frauds connected with the Quartermaster's Department at Philadelphia. The testimony, in part, has already been procured.

Gen. Hitchcock's gratuitous attack upon General McClellan for having violated the orders of the President, leads many people to assume that a court martial is intended for him.

Various rumors are in circulation as to the causes of removal of Generals Sumner and Franklin, but nothing definite seems to be known. Several officers are named as their successors, among them Generals Couch, Smith, Reynolds, Heintzleman and Sedgewick.

Capt Ashcroft, of the 3d New York Artillery stationed at Fort Hatteras, has received authority from Maj. Gen. Foster to raise a battalion of artillery from the citizens there.

General Foster is desirous of the organization from loyal natives of North Carolina of regiments of artillery and cavalry.

From Southern papers it appears that some excitement has been occasioned in the interior of the Carolinas by the reported concentration of Federal troops in that department.

It is stated that seventy-five thousand Confederate troops have been sent into North Carolina from the Rappahannock, and that another force has been withdrawn thence for the Southwest.

The Catholic Telegraph states that Rev. John T. Nealis, formerly of the Archdiocese of Ohio, but for the last year or so pastor of the Catholic Church of Chattanooga, Tenn., has just died at that place from the effects of wounds inflicted on him by a party of three ruffians, who waylaid him on the public highway and having cruelly beat him, then shot him with a revolver.

Gen. Fitz John Porter is not only dismissed from the army, but by virtue of the sentence as approved by the President, declared to be "forever disqualified from holding any office of trust or profit, under the government of the United States."

The Liverpool correspondent of a Boston paper states that Capt. Maury, of the Confederate States, has returned to Liverpool from Russia, where he went to procure guns for the ships now building at the first named port.

In Baltimore, yesterday, George H. Ayres, who represented himself as a deserter from the Confederate army, was brought before Marshal Van Nostrand, and took the oath of allegiance.

The iron-clad Montauk, (one of the Monitors) accompanied by other naval vessels, left Hilton Head on the 24th.

The exposure made by a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature in reference to alleged bribery and corruption in which Gen. Cameron is a party, is to be made the subject of inquiry on the part of the Senate. A resolution has been prepared, which will be offered in Executive session at their next meeting, calling the attention of the President to the matter.

A grand combined movement is now taking place on the Mississippi for the purpose of renewing the attack on Vicksburg. A letter from Memphis, dated the 18th January, states that Gen. Grant had seized all the steamers in the mercantile service for the purpose of transporting his troops and munitions of war.

The ship Mortimer Livingston is ashore at Carson's Inlet. All her officers and crew, and passengers, one hundred and twenty in number, were saved. A little girl and one man, however, were drowned by the upsetting of a boat.

Lieut. Jesse Ball, Co. I, 88th Illinois volunteers, is dishonorably dismissed the service of the United States, for accompanying his tender of resignation with the reason that he is tired of the service and is opposed to the proclamation of the President of the U. S.

"Millions for the constitution, not one cent for emancipation." This is the sentiment uttered by Hon. A. G. Burr, at an immense public meeting held in Chicago last Saturday, to take into consideration the state of the country.

The N. Y. Herald says, "The news of the resignation of Gen. Burnside, and the appointment of Gen. Hooker to the command of the army of the Potomac, being known in Wall street yesterday morning, stocks fell two to five per cent. at the first board. This is a capital augury for Hooker."

The Provost Marshal in Washington is rigidly enforcing the order of the War Department forbidding the use of ambulances for any other purpose than that for which the service requires them. Several arrests have been recently made for a violation of this very proper order.

It is stated that Mr. Raymond, of the N. Y. Times, received a telegraph dispatch, a few days ago, announcing that the corpse of his brother, who belongs to the army of the Potomac, was at Belle Plains. He hurried down there, and was agreeably surprised to find that his brother was well, and that it was his corpse instead of his corpse, whose arrival it was intended to announce.

U. S. gunboat Winona, reported to have been sunk by the Confederate batteries near Port Hudson, La., was one of the twenty-three steam gunboats built for the U. S. Navy when the war broke out.

From New Orleans we learn that Gen. Banks had issued orders assessing the Confederates of the city for the support of the poor; requiring registered enemies to the United States to take the oath of allegiance, and declaring that insults to soldiers would be punished.

The amended treaty of peace, friendship, commerce and navigation, between the United States and the republic of Bolivia, is officially promulgated.

Mr. Deming who was arrested for endeavoring to send Gen. Burnside's address to the northern press, has been released.
